

2017-2018 LAW, ETHICS, AND SOCIETY MINOR

(Minimum of five course credits)

No more than two (2) courses from the same rubric can be used to satisfy the requirements for the LES minor.

The Law, Ethics, and Society minor provides opportunities for coherent, disciplines, and multi-disciplinary study of law that is rooted in the liberal arts and the aims of liberal learning. Paramount purposes include students developing careful, normative understandings of law, justice, and society, both in the United States and internationally. This approach aims to supplement and complement students' major disciplinary study, whether they are preparing to enter graduate study or the world of work beyond Berea.

Requirements

The following course:

LES 215: Law, Ethics, and Society _____ 1

AND

Structures of Law (At least one (1) course from the list below)

BUS 240: Business Law _____ 1
CFS 350: Family Law and Policy _____ 1
PSC 100: Introduction to the Study of Politics _____ 1
PSC 110: American Government _____ 1
PSC 314: American Constitutional Law _____ 1
PSC 317: The Judicial Process _____ 1

AND

Law and Ethics (At least one (1) course from the list below)

AFR/APS/PSJ/SENS/WGS 225: Environmental Justice _____ 1
PHI 104: Morality, Law & Philosophy _____ 1
PHI/PSC 204: Justice and Law in Classical Political Philosophy _____ 1
PHI/PSC 207: Human Rights, International Law _____ 1
PHI/PSC 209: Freedom, Law and the Modern State _____ 1

AND

Two (2) additional courses from either list above and/or from the list below:

ENG 280: Workshop on Professional Writing (when Legal Writing is the focus) _____ 1
PHI 106: Introductory Reasoning _____ 1
PSJ/COM 113: Conflict and Mediation _____ 1
SOC 327: Crime and Deviance _____ 1
SOC 215: Juvenile Delinquency _____ 1
LES 185/286/386/486: Special Topics _____ 1
LES 390/490A or B: Independent Study _____ 1
LES 395/495: Internship _____ 1
LES 397/497 A or B: Team Initiated Study _____ 1
LES 398/498: Directed Study _____ 1
Other approved courses _____ 1