

2021-2022 AFRICAN AND AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDIES MINOR

(Minimum of five course credits)

The minor in African and African American Studies is intended to supplement the student's academic major with a scholarly understanding of African diasporic history, social and political life, economics, culture, and art. This minor program also addresses issues and topics pertaining to the physical and psychological health of the African diaspora. The program seeks to provide students with clear, culturally based knowledge about African diasporic communities throughout the world. This includes not only the African continent, but the Americas, the Caribbean, Europe, and even Asia. The program is interdisciplinary and fits within the framework of a liberal-arts education.

Required Core Courses

AFR 222 Introduction to African-American Studies

AFR 260 Survey of African History (also HIS)

Required Distribution Courses

Three (3) additional course credits chosen from AFR course offerings (which include cross-listings), or courses outside of the AFR Department that have been approved for credit by the Department Chair.
