

2021-2022 PEACE AND SOCIAL JUSTICE STUDIES MINOR

(Minimum of five course credits)

A study of the causes of social injustice and violence, and of the conditions and practices necessary for establishing social justice, equality and sustainable peace in every dimension of human life and at every level of human interaction. The minor in Peace and Social Justice Studies requires a minimum of five (5) course credits. Students interested in pursuing an Independent Major in this field of study should contact the Director of Peace and Social Justice Studies to begin working on their proposal as early in their college career as possible.

Required Core Courses

PSJ 100 Foundations of Peace and Social Justice

PSJ 205 Movements and Community Organizing

Required Distribution Courses

Three (3) additional courses, at least one chosen from each category.

Building Peace

PSJ/COM 113 Conflict and Mediation

PSJ 218 Voices of Non-Violence

PSJ 300 Ethnographic Methods

PSJ 301 Restorative Justice

PSJ 305 Peacebuilding

PSJ 395/495 Internship (as approved by program)

COM 206 Interpersonal Communication

COM 207 Intercultural Communication

COM/AFR 305 Interracial Communication

PHI/PSC 207 Human Rights, International Law

PSC 250 International Relations

PSC 351 International Organizations

PSC 355 Foreign Policy Analysis

Social, Economic and Environmental Justice

PSJ 210 Diversity and Social Justice

PSJ/AFR/APS/SENS/WGS 225 Environmental Justice

PSJ 395/495 Internship (as approved by program)

PSJ 450 Seminar in Peace & Social Justice

APS/SOC 330 Comm Analysis: Appalachia Case

ECO 341 Economic Development: Theory & Application

SOC 223 Social Stratification & Inequality

SOC 341 Sociology of Development & Social Change

WGS 127 Riding the Waves of Feminism