

2022-2023 AGRICULTURE AND NATURAL RESOURCES MINOR

(Minimum of six ANR course credits)

A minor in Agriculture and Natural Resources is available for students majoring in other disciplines who wish to relate food and fiber production or natural resource management to another area of study or to enhance potential employment opportunities. Additional learning opportunities are available through Independent Study (390/490A or B), Internship (395/495), Team Initiated Study (397/497A or B), and in the Labor Program.

Required Core Course

ANR 100 Introduction to Agriculture and Natural Resources

Required Distribution Courses

Five (5) additional ANR courses