

Berea College Ecovillage

Solar Shed and Natural Building Lab

An example of various methods of natural building and passive solar heating as well as a garden shed to store tools for gardening and potting plants.

Materials and Construction: The basic structure of the building is an oaken post and beam frame set on a concrete foundation. This frame will be the support for a living roof and natural building materials will be an infill between the posts to form the walls. The floor will be compacted earth.

